AFTER DESPERADOES

A Running Fight for Over Four Miles.

FOUR OF THE FLEEING MEN SHOT.

Several Others May Have Been Wounded, but the Outlaws Escaped from Their Pursuers and Have Probably Gone Into No Man's Land.

ARKALON, Kan., Jan. 8. — Deputy sheriffs are now scouring the country to arrest the men who are supposed to have been implicated in the murder of Sheriff Dunn. A deputy sheriff brought in young Estes at 10 o'clock yesterday morning. He was one of the conspirators who planned the murdering raid of Tuesday morning, and his arrest brings into prominence the widespread organization formed for murderous purposes. He was a sort of chief engineer, making plans of the roads about the marked victims' houses, which are said to have been presented at the regular meetings of the Stevens and Steward County Citizens' Alliances, and these plans were minutely followed. Estes' arrest makes four reported, and thirty-one more warrants are now out for service. The end is not yet, and every citizen seems to feel this, as all are heavily armed even while pursuing their usual vocations. The three alleged arch-conspirators, Mr. Wood, J. F. Van Vorhes and C. L. Calvert, although not yet arrested, are under surveillance.

Two More Arrests Made.

Two of the ringleaders of the mob who murdered Sheriff Dunn and attempted to assassinate Judge Botkin arrived here yesterday afternoon under military escort. They are C. Anderson, chairman of the Seward county commissioners, and J. G. Leach, a farmer residing two miles north of Springfield. All of the prisoners so far are members of either the Farmers' or Citizens' Alliances. The warrants for the murderers were issued by an Arkalon justice, and as they have to be returned here the prisoners are brought here to await their preliminary examinations, although the county jail is located at Springfield. Naturally the complaints would have been made before the justice of the peace of Springfield, but he is accused of being in sympathy with the conspirators, and if the men charged with Dunn's murder should be brought before him he would release them regardless of evidence.

On the other hand the Arkalon justice is expected to hold all who are brought before him for trial in the district while it is generally conceded that under existing laws no conviction can be had of any murder, no matter how cold-blooded, in this county. A justice can hold an accused man for several months, or till it has been demonstrated at three separate terms of court, that a jury can not be empaneled. The result is that all anti-Botkin men are convinced that an arrest or warrant issued by the Arkalon justice of the peace means certain imprisonment for an indefinite period. The leaders of the conspirators are now being brought in, and it is feared that their followers will make a desperate attempt to rescue them.

Should the trouble in this county be passed over without further trouble, it will doubtless be repeated in the next county which Judge Botkin visits to hold court, as it is alleged that the secret organization has sworn to kill him.

Flight with Outlaws.

Trouble was feared when the deputies entered Wooddale yesterday evening, and it took place just after they reached there. So far four men are known to have been killed. The desperadoes, numbering fifteen men who had taken part in the Canon battle were discovered by the posse, encamped in a gulch south of Springfield. They had pickets out and soon discovered the posse. A couple of wagons to which horses were hitched, were standing in readiness near their camp. Into these vehicles the hunted men sprang and started off at a killing pace, with the posse, which was mounted on horseback, in swift pursuit. For ten miles the desperadoes managed to keep beyond the range of the Winchester of their pursuers, but thereafter the speed maintained began to tell on their horses, and the posse succeeded in getting within rifle shot.

A running fight on the level plains was then kept up for over four miles, during which three of the outlaws were seen to tumble from their seats in the wagon, evidently having been shot. At the end of the four mile run the horses of the pursuers became jaded and they made a detour of about half a mile to a ranch, where they procured fresh horses and again started in pursuit. A courier started back with the news from the ranch. He says the pursuing party, numbering fourteen men, will follow the desperadoes into No Man's Land, if necessary, and bring them back dead or alive.

The arrival of another courier is anxiously awaited. Judge Botkin opened his court yesterday morning at Springfield, peace being maintained by the military. He adjourned without transacting any business and came at once to Arkalon to attend the funerals of Sheriff Dunn and Pratt.

Governor Humphreys' Position.

TOPEKA, Kan., Jan. 8. — Governor Humphreys yesterday wired Judge Botkin that he would not furnish arms to either faction, but that he had ordered the adjutant general to prevent all movement of armed men in the counties of Seward and Stevens, except state troops.

Archbishop Robert Knox, primate of the Protestant church of Ireland, is seriously ill in the palace at Armagh, Dublin. He is suffering from influenza and congestion of the lungs.

SEATTLE'S SHAME.

Japanese Slavery Flourishing in Its Basest Form.

SEATTLE, Wash., Jan. 8. — The investigations which have shown the existence of slavery among the Japanese in Victoria have been followed with similar results in this city. Wednesday the first decisive step was taken to stop the importation of Japanese women for immoral purposes.

The United States authorities learned that a man named Ithaki had gone to Yokohama about seven months ago and purchased three Japanese women of their parents for $80 each. He brought them to this country, saying that one was his wife and the other two were his sisters. His "wife" he left in San Francisco and his sisters he brought to this city.

All three were forced to live as fallen women, and give nearly all their earnings to their owner, who merely allowed them enough for food and clothing. About two weeks ago the girl from San Francisco was brought here and placed in a house near the two others. The facts were extorted partly from the women and partly from the owner, and the chain of evidence completed. Ithaki has been arrested.

The Japanese consul has requested the aid of the ministerial association here in breaking up this system of slavery. The Christianized Japanese in Seattle say that all their countrymen who come to the United States as laborers are held in subjection by a powerful secret society which, playing on their superstitions, compels them to pay tribute. About fifteen Japanese women in Seattle have been sold outright by their parents and brought over here by their purchasers.

These Japanese women live in the part of Seattle known as Whitechapel, which everybody coming from the Northern Pacific depot, or the steamboat landing passes. They inhabit six rows of yellow pine cottages. The rows are about one hundred feet long, and the little buildings front one another and are separated by passageways about twenty-five feet wide, making three short streets.

The place is a counterpart on a small scale of the famous district in Tokio devoted to the habitations of the fallen women of the city. No other American city, not even San Francisco, has the counterpart of this Japanese quarter of Seattle. The best people of the town have long regarded Whitechapel as a crowning disgrace, and on several occasions they have threatened to rise in their might and wipe it out of existence.

SENATE AND HOUSE.

Both Branches Adjourn After Short Sessions.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8. — In the senate yesterday Senator Hill, of New York, was sworn in. A number of bills were introduced.

Messrs. Cockrell and others resigned from various committees as originally agreed, and Mr. Hill was put in their place. Mr. Morgan called up the Nicaragua canal matter. Mr. Allen, of Washington, advocated the construction of the canal. Mr. Morgan rose to reply. At 1:45 p. m. the senate adjourned until Monday.

In the house documents and other communications were received and referred. On motion of Mr. Springer it was decided that when the house adjourned it be to meet on Monday next.

Mr. Richards, of Tennessee, offered a resolution to investigate errors in the indexing of the congressional record. Adopted.

Mr. Blount moved a reconsideration of the vote of yesterday by which the senate joint resolution appropriating $100,000 to enable the secretary of the navy to charter ships for carrying to Russia the contributions of American citizens to the suffering residents of that country, was indefinitely postponed.

Mr. Kilgore, of Texas, moved to lay that motion on the table, and both motions went over for action at some future time.

Among the bills introduced was one by Endoe, of Tennessee, to repeal the McKinley bill and one by Springer, of Illinois, to reclaim the arid lands of the United States by irrigation and provide for their settlement under the homestead law.

After a large number of other bills had been introduced the house, at 2:45 p. m., adjourned until Monday.

MAN OF MANY WIVES.

Seven Already Heard from a Few Days After His Arrest.

CLEVELAND, Jan. 8. — The day after Christmas John Anderson, of St. Louis, deserted his wife in this city, after taking $1,200 belonging to the woman. It was on the wedding trip of the couple that this occurred. The bride had formerly been Mrs. Ellen Purcell, of St. Louis.

As soon as the news of his arrest, which occurred soon afterward, was made public, other wives began to be heard from. So far seven women, claiming Anderson for a husband, have been heard from. The victims reside in all sections of the country, California, Iowa, Massachusetts, Illinois, New York and Missouri having been heard from. Anderson has two wives in Missouri. In each case Anderson got all his victim's money, lived with her for a time and then deserted her. He is now under indictment here for departing with Mrs. Purcell's money. The police are of the opinion that all the returns from his wives are not yet in.

Trying to Arbitrate.

NEW HAVEN, Jan. 8. — Chief Arthur, of the Locomotive Engineers, and Grand Master Sargent, of the Locomotive Firemen, are in conference with the Consolidated railroad officials in regard to a demand by the firemen of that road for an increase of twenty-five cents a day and pay for extra work. The engineers are in sympathy with the firemen.

ANOTHER OUTRAGE.

White Caps in Crawford County, Indiana.

TWO PEOPLE THE SUFFERERS.

A Man Tied to a Tree and Given Fifty-Five Lashes, While a Woman Is Almost Drowned in an Ice Stream—A Counter Organization Determined Upon for the Purpose of Taking Summary Vengeance.

NEW ALBANY, Ind., Jan. 8. — Another famous case of White Caps occurred at 2 o'clock Wednesday morning, in Crawford county, forty-five miles west of the city. Half mile west of the little town of English, in that county, resides a reputable farmer named Henry F. Taylor, and a quarter of a mile from his home lives a woman named Mary Hawkins. It was suspected that too great an intimacy existed between Taylor and this woman, and so the virtuous Crawford county White Caps determined to set guard on the conduct of the pair. At 10:30 o'clock Tuesday night half a dozen of the gang were sent to lay in wait at Mrs. Hawkins' place, and soon after they saw Taylor enter the house. They reported this information to the balance of the gang, who had assembled at three or four miles distance, to be ready for action. On being informed of Taylor's presence at Mrs. Hawkins', the night riders started for the woman's residence, about twenty-five of them being in the party. On reaching the house they unceremoniously broke open the door and entered, discovering, they claim, Taylor and Mrs. Hawkins in bed together. By this time it was 2 o'clock in the morning.

The White Caps took both Taylor and Mrs. Hawkins in their night clothes and mounted them upon horses, and riding half a mile away, they took Taylor from the horse, tied him to a tree, and stripping off his shirt, gave him fifty-five lashes on the bare back with long hickory switches. The man was so savagely tortured that he fainted twice during the brutal infliction of the blows rained upon him, and the blood followed every lick received from his brutal assailers. Mrs. Hawkins was dismounted and compelled to stand by and witness the torture of her paramour, and leaving Taylor more dead than alive, still tied to the tree, the White Caps took Mrs. Hawkins to a creek near by, where they ducked her until she was so exhausted that she could neither stand nor make outcry. They then carried her to her home, on the way going back to where Taylor was tied to the tree, and cutting the cords and allowing him to fall limp on the ground.

Mrs. Hawkins had to be carried to her home, where she lay Wednesday afternoon near death's door from exhaustion and illness as the result of the almost drowning given her in the icy cold water. Taylor managed to crawl to his home, going most of the way on his hands and knees, suffering from the torture and exposure in the cold night.

Black Caps Will Organize.

This act of savagery has caused the most intense excitement in that part of Crawford county where it occurred, and it has been determined to form a counter organization called the Black Caps, for the purpose of taking summary vengeance on the White Cap marauders, who are defying the laws and outraging the moral sentiment of nineteen-twentieths of the people of Crawford county.

ARRIVING ON BOTH SIDES.

The Strike at Yoakim Growing Very Critical.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Jan. 8. — Disorder among the strikers on the San Antonio and Aransas Pass railroad at Yoakim is threatened. Captain Lee Hale has been there for a week, with a detachment of twelve deputy sheriffs. The mayor of Yoakim, who is alleged to be in sympathy with the strikers, to offset the effect of the presence of these officers, has appointed thirty special police from the ranks of the strikers.

This having been announced to Judge Kling, of the Forty-fifth district court here, he had fifteen additional sheriffs sent to that town. The receivers of the road claim to have found a man who disabled fifteen engines at Yoakim two days ago.

FOUR IN ONE CASKET.

A Grandfather and Triplet Grandsons Die on the Same Day.

EASTON, Pa., Jan. 8. — The triplets, sons of Michael Brown, proprietor of the Lafayette hotel, this city, born Dec. 6, died at different hours Wednesday from grip. John Brown, their grandfather, died also in the same house from the effects of a recent stroke of paralysis. They were all buried in the same casket.

Sensational Elopement.

WINCHESTER, O., Jan. 8. — A big sensation is raging in Jefferson township. Mack Shaw, a widower, won the affections of the wife of Charles Bussey, and they eloped Wednesday night. Mrs. Bussey is the mother of a year-old child, and after she had fled insisted on going back after the child. Shaw objected to this, and a quarrel arose, but the man's authority prevailed, and they went on. Mr. Bussey, the woman's husband, and Peter Shafer, her father, are hot on the trail of the couple. If caught there will be trouble, as lynching is threatened. They started for West Virginia, but were headed off, and are now supposed to be hiding in the hills of Jefferson township. Both parties are very prominent and wealthy.

May Be Only a Rumor.

MCALISTER, I. T., Jan. 8. — Two hundred men are reported to have been killed by a mine explosion. Particulars later.

VALPARAISO VICTIMS.

One of the Sailors Giving His Official Statement.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 8. — A dispatch from Vallejo gives the details of the investigation into the assault on the Baltimore sailors, which began yesterday at Mare Island in the presence of Judge Advocate General Reamy, United States District Attorney Garter and United States Commissioner J. S. Hanley. Reamy conducted the investigation.

John W. Talbot, apprentice on the Baltimore was the first witness. He was one of the liberty party on Sept. 10. He stated that C. W. Riggins, the boat-swin's mate, one of the killed, was with him during the afternoon, and about 3 o'clock they went together into a saloon called "The Shakespeare," in the southern part of the town. The proprietor ordered them out, declaring that a mob of disbanded sailors and soldiers were preparing to attack the Baltimore's men and he did not want any trouble in his place.

Riggins and Talbot laughed at the warning, but left the place and went to the "True Blue" saloon. Continuing, witness said: "About 4 o'clock, coming out, I saw Riggins being threatened by the Chilean sailors, in man-of-war uniform. I ran across and tried to separate them. One of the Chileans spat on my face, and I knocked him down. Instantly the crowd of over one hundred appeared on the scene, and we started to run, but soon jumped on a passing car. The mob followed, and we were soon surrounded. I saw Riggins fall and tried to reach him, but was stabbed in the back and turned to run."

"After going a few blocks I turned into a doorway and was again stabbed in the back. I got in, however, and took a position in a corner and defended myself with a chair. The mob followed me, and a Chilean sailor in man-of-war uniform stabbed me again. The bartender finally put them out, and after an hour a policeman arrested me and took me to jail. He disguised me by substituting a hat for my sailor cap with the word 'Baltimore' on it, so they would not know that I was an American sailor. The officer turned me over to two other policemen who struck me several times, although I was making no resistance. I had no arms of any kind, and was perfectly sober."

"After a short time in jail I was sent to a hospital with Hamilton, Painter and Davidson, all badly hurt. We were kept there four days and were sent to the ship where I was in the hospital forty-five days. None except American sailors were attacked by the mob."

This ended Talbot's examination.

FREIGHT TRAIN AND STREET CAR.

They Came Together on the Streets of Chicago.

CHICAGO, Jan. 8. — About 10 o'clock last night a freight train on the Chicago and Alton ran into a Halstead street car going south at the railway crossing near the corner of Halstead street and Archer avenue. The street car was smashed to atoms and a number of the passengers badly cut and bruised. There are gates at the crossing, but for some reason they are never used at night.

When the car reached the crossing, the conductor ran ahead to see if all was clear. He thought that it was and signalled for the driver to go ahead. The car was almost clear from the track when the engine of the freight train struck the rear platform of the car with terrific force, and carried it across the street, throwing it on its side. The freight train was speedily stopped, and the trainmen assisted in extricating the passengers, none of whom were severely injured.

Another of the Same Kind.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Jan. 8. — Nine passengers in an electric street car were more or less injured last night in a collision with a freight train on the Kansas City, St. Joseph and Council Bluffs railroad while crossing the tracks. Henry Wuermer and Willis Trearnum received the most severe injuries and will die.

AN UNFORTUNATE TRAIN.

Two Accidents Within a Few Hours of Each Other.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Jan. 8. — The West Shore passenger train, due here from the west at 9:45 a. m., had not arrived at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. At Churchville junction the locomotive drawing that train was derailed in the morning, causing considerable delay, and then, when a short distance this side of Clyde, another more serious accident occurred. The passenger train dashed into the rear end of a freight, wrecking the engine and several freight cars.

A wrecking train was sent out from Newark and West Shore trains had to be sent around over the Central tracks. It was said at the West Shore station that nobody had been injured and that belated trains were expected every moment. A new locomotive has been sent from this city to bring in the passenger cars.

Something Novel in Divorce.

ZANESVILLE, O., Jan. 8. — A peculiarity in granting divorces has been brought out here. Arthur Potts secured a divorce from his wife, Jennie Potts, and granted custody of the child, but when Judge Phillips was informed that Mrs. Potts had secured a divorce in an Alabama court and that the child had been placed in the hands of Mrs. Potts' mother, he refused to allow the decree to be entered upon the records until the decree of the Alabama court was modified.

ARKANSAS CITY, Kan., Jan. 8. — Peter Hinton, brand inspector for the Northwest Texas Live Stock association, was shot and instantly killed in this city yesterday morning about 2 o'clock. John Bonder, a "joint" keeper, is under arrest, though there has not been any positive evidence developed that he fired the fatal shot.

EVENING BULLETIN.

DAILY, EXCEPT SUNDAY.
ROSSER & MCCARTHY,
Proprietors.

FRIDAY, JANUARY 8, 1902.

To-day is St. Jackson's Day but Democrats only will celebrate it.

SENATOR POYNTEZ has introduced a bill providing severe penalties for selling liquor to minors and for allowing minors to even enter a place where whisky is sold. An excellent measure, and one that should have been passed long ago.

Drug stores that sell liquor only on prescription are exempt for the operation of the bill.

The present Legislature of Kentucky should pass a law requiring every druggist to label all poisons he may sell. Many of the medicines are deadly drugs if taken in large doses. Aconite and belladonna come in this class, but we know of one druggist in this city who has sold these medicines without putting any label on the bottle to indicate the deadly character of the contents. The other druggists may do likewise.

AFTER council adjourned last night, the workings of the Gamewell Electric Fire Alarm System were exhibited and explained by Mr. Chandler, the company's representative. It is the best and most satisfactory now in use. It would cost between $3,000 and $3,500 to fit up Maysville with this system, with two tower bells to give the public alarm, but the cost of maintaining it after once placed in use would be very little. Paris has contracted with the company for the system at a cost of about $3,000, and it is just what Maysville ought to have, if her financial condition were a little better.

The Covington Record is red hot over the defeat of Hon. Harvey Myers for speaker of the House, and jumps on some of the fellows who opposed him, with both feet. The Kentucky Post fought Myers from the start, and its editor—W. P. Campbell, formerly of this city—comes in for a good deal of the Record's attention. Here's the Record's reference to Campbell:

"It was really harrowing to the soul to see Goebel's little pimp, Campbell, 'editor' of the Post, groveling and whining with Senators and begging them to support Castle for Sergeant-at-Arms of the Senate. He whined that his filthy little sheet didn't pay him a living salary, and that Castle had promised to appoint him Assistant Janitor of the Senate cloak room if he (Castle) should be elected. This was enough to ruin Castle, and it did.

"Senators slaughtered him right and left, and Castle really seemed surprised. They seemed to know that Campbell is simply a little man to be used by anybody who may wish to do so.

"And if Campbell will deny, over his own signature, that he didn't beg and whine for Castle's election, and for the reason given, the Record will take pleasure in proving its assertion, even to the satisfaction of Campbell."

Campbell sent a challenge during the last Legislature, but didn't succeed in getting the other fellow to fight. Look out for a duel now, if the Record editor is a fightin' man.

The Railroad Taxes.

According to the report of the State Railroad Commissioners, the total assessed value of the railroads in Mason County amounts to $656,185—apportioned between the two roads as follows: Kentucky Central: 14.37 miles @ $7,500, $107,775; other property, $6,000. Total, $113,775. M. and B. S., (Chesapeake and Ohio): 19.38 miles @ $27,000, $528,660; other property, $13,750. Total, $542,410. Grand total, $656,185. At the same rate of taxation as last year, the county will derive a right snug little sum from the roads. But no county is more entitled to some return from the railways than Mason, as no one has been more liberal in extending them aid.

The assessment of the two roads in this city is as follows: Kentucky Central Railroad: .56 miles @ $7,500, $4,200; other property, $6,000. M. and B. S. 1.96 miles @ $27,000, $52,920; other property, $3,800. Total, $71,920.

The building of the C. and O. was a big thing for Lewis County in more ways than one. It adds over $1,000,000 to her assessment, as shown by the following: 41.38 miles @ $27,000, $1,117,260; other property, $1,800. Total, $1,119,060. What a magnificent and bountiful return for the pitiful sum the county gave to aid in building the road!

For the Children.

Our readers will notice the advertisements in these columns of Chamberlain & Co., Des Moines, Iowa. From personal experience we can say that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has broken up bad colds for our children and we are acquainted with many mothers in Centerville who would not be without it in the house for a good many times its cost and are recommending it every day.—Centerville (S. D.) Chronicle and Index.

Twenty-five cent, 50 cent and $1 bottles for sale by Power & Reynolds.

DR. STOCKDALE, the specialist of Louisville, whose advertisement appears in another column, arrived this morning and we heartily recommend him to the people as a man of great intelligence and a perfect gentleman.

Week of Prayer Services.

The week of prayer services to-night will be held at the First Baptist Church. Subject: "Missions to Mohammedans and Heathens." Praise: For the devotedness of men and women in the Foreign Mission field, and for the triumphs of the Cross achieved through their instrumentality; for the increasing number of young Christians who are giving themselves to the work among the heathen. Prayer: For a more abundant outpouring of the Holy Spirit, and for a still larger supply of laborers in the great harvest field; that missionaries may be preserved from the dangers of travel, fever and the hostility of the natives; that fresh doors may be opened for the gospel; and that Mohammedanism and all false religions may give place to the saving knowledge of Christ—Psa. lxxvii; Joel ii. 23-32; Eph. vi. 10-20; John iv. 31-42. The services at the court house last night were well attended. They were conducted by Rev. J. E. Wright, pastor of the M. E. Church, South. Rev. Cyrus Riddle and Dr. Hays were the speakers. The public invited to-night.

Railway News.

General Passenger Agent Fuller, of the Chesapeake and Ohio, is making a great record, says an exchange. For forty consecutive months an increase in passenger earnings over the preceding month has been shown.

The electric locomotive headlights in use on the Chesapeake and Ohio are so satisfactory that William Garstang, Engineer of motive power, will recommend that all the locomotives run on the mountain divisions be at once equipped with this improvement.

At the meeting of the Board of the Chesapeake and Ohio, to be held Tuesday, January 12, a very important matter will be finally decided upon. It is the purchase of the Newport News and Mississippi Railway, Eastern division, giving the Chesapeake and Ohio a through line from Huntington, W. Va., via Ashland, Mt. Sterling and Winchester to Lexington.

Religious News.

Rev. J. B. Moody closed a meeting at Bagdad with twenty-seven additions to the Baptist Church.

Rev. J. W. Hughes, of the Methodist Church, South, and Elder W. J. Howe, of the Christian Church, will have a religious discussion at Wilmore, beginning January 20th, 1892, continuing four days. The first question for debate is as follows: Affirmed, that the Bible teaches that we are baptised with the Holy Spirit as in the days of the apostles, with the tongues of fire excepted, and that it is possible to live in this life without actual sin. J. W. Hughes affirms and W. J. Howe denies. The second question is: Affirmed, that the Bible teaches that the church to which W. J. Howe belongs is the Christian Church. W. J. Howe affirms and J. W. Hughes denies.—Carlisle Mercury.

And It Is Aggravating.

As a rule most people are intensely exasperated when, after wading through some exciting story in the newspaper which they have devoured with breathless interest, to find at the finish it is only a trap to advertise some wonderful soap or patent medicine. Of course it's disappointing, but just consider how cleverly it's done, and, by the way, what a wonderful industry has been developed in this mode of advertising. Some of the great medicine firms pay their advertising agents as high as $10,000 a year, and a certain manufacturer of soap pays his advertiser $25,000. Just think of it, and while you are thinking just remember that "She Couldn't Marry Three" is the best show on the road.

For the Farmer.

Colonel H. P. Thompson, of Clark County, has bought about 70,000 pounds of new tobacco, much of it at 10 and 4 cents.

A fellow who fully understands the situation says: "When you pass a farm and see a large barn and a small house you may know the man is boss. When you see a fine house and a dilapidated barn you may understand the woman has things her own way, and when there is a new house and a good barn you may take it for granted that the woman and man are about equal."

"She Couldn't Marry Three."

No company that we have ever heard of has ever come to our city with such favorable couriers as "She Couldn't Marry Three." They have the unanimous endorsement of the New York Press; and this, you may rest assured, will be your only chance to see this superior company, as they will make no stops going from San Francisco to New York City. We have no doubt of their success here.

THE KHEDIVE DEAD.

Egypt's Ruler Succumbs to the Grip.

A SHORT ILLNESS IS ENDED.

Europe Startled by the Unexpected Announcement—France and England Will Both Probably Take Some Part in a Successor—Other Foreign News.

CAIRO, Jan. 8.—The Khedive of Egypt, who has been ill some time with influenza, died yesterday afternoon. The attack of influenza from which he had been suffering developed into congestion of the lungs with cardiac affection.

The succession will go to his eldest son. The Khedive's annual allowance was $500,000. The five great European powers have a great deal to say about the management of the affairs of Egypt.

Tewfik Pasha, the Khedive of Egypt, was born Nov. 10, 1852. He was the eldest son of the late Khedive Ismail. He succeeded to the viceroyalty of Egypt by a decree of the Ottoman empire Aug. 8, 1890, upon the forced abdication of his father, and received the investiture on Aug. 14. Tewfik Pasha is the sixth ruler of Egypt in the dynasty of Mohammed Ali Pasha, who was appointed vali, or governor, in 1805 and who, in 1841, got the sultan, with the five great powers, to settle the hereditary principle in his own family.

Tewfik married in January, 1873, the Princess Emmine, daughter of the late El Hany Pasha, by whom he has two sons and two daughters. Tewfik Pasha's reign is most notable from the insurrection headed by Arabi Pasha, which broke out in September, 1881, with the object of compelling Tewfik to dismiss his ministry and convene a sort of parliament, or assembly of notables which met early in 1882. The affair of Sept. 8 resulted in the overthrow of Riaz Pasha's administration, and he was succeeded by Sheriff Pasha who, with the Khedive in 1882, called together the assembly of notables and Arabi Pasha was appointed under secretary of war. Arabi and the army had, however, the monopoly of power and became substantially dictators.

This, eventually, caused the British government to intervene by armed force. The bombardment of Alexandria under a fleet commanded by Admiral Sir Beauchamp Seymour, July 11, 1882, followed, and subsequently, Arabi Pasha and his army were completely routed at Tel-el-Kebir by British troops, under the command of General Sir Garnet Wolseley. Arabi fled to Cairo, where he surrendered to General D. A. Lowe. On Dec. 3, Arabi Pasha pleaded guilty to a charge of rebellion and was condemned to death; immediately afterward the Khedive commuted the sentence to perpetual exile from Egypt and its dependencies. Ceylon was eventually chosen as the place of banishment, and Arabi Pasha and other leaders of the rebellion were landed at Colombo, Jan. 16, 1883.

FRANCE AND ENGLAND INTERESTED.

Both Countries May Have Something to Say About a Successor.

PARIS, Jan. 8.—The death of the Khedive of Egypt has created an enormous sensation throughout France and particularly in the city. It is believed that France will take this opportunity of opening the whole Egyptian question and that she will insist upon the appointment of a regency with a French representation in such regency.

England, it is thought, will probably insist that Prince Abbas, the eldest son of the late Khedive, is old enough to reign; or, should England not take this course, it is inferred that she will advocate the appointment of a council or regency with Sir Evelyn Baring, the British agent, consul general and minister plenipotentiary in Egypt, as the presiding officer of such a body.

It is generally admitted, even here, that at this stage of the eastern question the influence that the late Sir William White, the last British ambassador to the Porte, had with the sultan, would have been invaluable. In any case the situation in the Mediterranean, in Morocco and in Egypt is a dangerous one, and will need great and fine diplomacy to avert a clash of arms.

Foreign Notes.

A fire at Ostheim, Thuringia, Wednesday, destroyed twenty houses. Five persons perished in the flames.

The inquiry relative to the explosion at Dublin castle is being conducted under Sir William Harcourt's act relative to explosives.

A mail bag containing 80,000 marks' worth of notes has been stolen from the custody of the postal department officials at Schalke, Westphalia.

There have been about 3,000 fresh cases of influenza in Copenhagen during the past week. Over one hundred people have died from the disease mentioned.

The blinding snowstorm which impeded traffic and travel greatly Wednesday continued Thursday throughout Ireland, Scotland and the north of England. All outdoor work where the storm prevails has been stopped.

Max Hayman, a banker at Regensburg, Germany, has failed. His liabilities are heavy, and the unexpected collapse of his institution, which has enjoyed a high standing, causes a sensation in the city and neighborhood.

The Earl of Litchfield is dead in London. He was born in 1825 and was descended from Admiral Anson, who made the famous voyage around the world. The earl did nothing remarkable. His eldest son, Francis Anson, succeeds him.

Borlas, the crazy student, who fired at the house of commons buildings in London, was arraigned Thursday and remanded. He is pronounced insane. He is a descendant of Kate Douglas, who enabled Mary Queen of Scots to escape in 1568 by barring the door with her bare arm against the soldiers.

A family consisting of six members have been found dead in their isolated dwelling near Reihelzen, in the Sudetic mountains, on the Bohemian frontier. Evidence existed that the four adult members had died of influenza, having been unable to secure medical attendance, and that the two children perished from starvation.

INCENDIARY CIRCULARS.

Leaders of the Garza Conspiracy Being Ferreted Out.

TONTREY, Mex., Jan. 8.—Copies of the circulars alleged to have been issued by the clerical party in support of the Garza uprising on the northern border are in the hands of the federal government, and steps will at once be taken to ferret out the leaders in this conspiracy to embarrass, if not overthrow, the Diaz administration.

The authorship of these incendiary circulars is generally attributed to Archbishop D'Oca of this diocese, but it is impossible now to write to give any authority for the report.

To Headst Garza.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Jan. 8.—The train of pack mules and scouts for service against Garza have arrived here from Fort D. C. Russell, Wyoming. It consists of thirty-one mules and six experienced frontier guides in charge of Henry Dailey, who has seen much service against the Indians. They leave on a special train for Fort McIntosh.

Garcia's Probable Successor.

CITY OF MEXICO, Jan. 8.—Bernardo Reyes, a governor of the state of Nuevo Leon, has arrived here from Monterey and there is a rumor in circulation that he is to be given the command of the troops operating against Garza.

MISSING BONDS RESTORED.

No One Knows Where They Came from and No Questions Asked.

FRANKLIN, Ky., Jan. 8.—Twenty-two thousand dollars' worth of the missing Hilton bonds were restored to the attorneys of the Hilton estate yesterday. This delivery grew out of the arrest of B. L. Stanfield some weeks ago, and it is supposed that all the bonds of which he had any knowledge have now been delivered.

The case against Stanfield will now be dismissed. The attorneys refuse to tell who delivered the bonds or the circumstances connected with it. The bonds recovered are Louisville city and Pensacola and Atlantic railroad bonds. Stanfield is now in Nashville, where his case was to have been tried. He has made no statement.

CAUGHT AND CONDENSED.

Brief Accounts of Small Events at Various Places.

Secretary Blaine is almost entirely recovered.

Speaker Crisp passed a good night's rest and is much better this morning.

Rear Admiral Smith, U. S. N., retired, residing in New York, is dangerously ill with grip, and not expected to recover.

Edward Nichols, president of the Brooks locomotive works at Dunkirk, N. Y., died at that place Thursday of pneumonia.

In the Connecticut house Thursday a motion to suspend the rules and pass the $50,000 appropriation for Connecticut's exhibit at the world's fair, was lost.

Fire early Thursday destroyed the two-story frame building 803 Monroe street, Brooklyn, occupied by the Brooklyn Slate Muntel company, and a row of two-story frame buildings adjoining. The loss will reach $10,000.

John L. Mitchell, member of congress for Milwaukee, has resigned as a member of the national Democratic committee. E. C. Wall, chairman of the Democratic state committee for the state of Wisconsin, was elected to fill the vacancy.

The Philadelphia Press prints a rumor that the government has purchased the steamships Ono, Indiana, Illinois and Pennsylvania, built in that city some years ago for the American Steamship company. It is said they are to be used as transports.

Mrs. Cora Chapman, wife of the actor, Chapman, who was shot and wounded several weeks ago in Brooklyn by Herbert Searvant, a nurse, who was attending her deranged husband, made a complaint of assault against Searvant. The latter was remanded for the action of the grand jury.

George Ross McKenzie, a former president of the Singer Manufacturing company, and a well known resident of Jersey City, died at his home there Thursday. The deceased was born in Scotland, in 1830, and came to this country in 1846. He secured employment with the Singer Manufacturing company, and from a very subordinate position he raised himself to the presidency of the company. Mr. McKenzie leaves a large fortune.

May Be Having a Lively Time.

CITY OF MEXICO, Jan. 8.—There are well founded rumors here that there are revolutions in progress in Guatemala as no dispatches have been received here from any part of that country since Jan. 1, the date of the presidential elections. The governor of Chiapas, a border state, telegraphs that he also has no news from Guatemala, but has sent to Tapachula asking for information.

May Never Be Known.

GRIFFIN, Ga., Jan. 8.—The chances of finding the murderers of Dr. H. M. Barrett and his wife, who lived near Kallula, and whose bodies were found horribly mutilated in their home a few days ago, seem very slim. Dr. Barrett died yesterday. He tried hard several times to answer questions about his assailants, but was never able to do so.

Swept Away by a Cyclone.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Jan. 8.—News has just reached here of a terrible cyclone that passed over Randolph county, near Ronnoke, Wednesday evening. Fourteen residences were blown down and three people so far as heard from were killed. At Milltown, in Chambers county, a Baptist church, the college, seven stores and fifteen residences were razed to the ground. Professor Gibson was fatally injured, and a number of others were severely injured.

Batteries of Boilers Explode.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 8.—Six boilers in two batteries at the Braddock wire works, Rankin station, exploded at 9:30 last night, instantly killing Peter Zimmerman, the engineer, seriously injuring James Carpenter, the fireman, and slightly hurting about a dozen other employees. The works were partially wrecked. The cause of the explosion is not known.
